To whom it may concern,

I am writing to recommend Nefeli Tsaousi for a Marketing Professional. Nefeli is a highly motivated individual striving for success and knowledge. She approaches every task with dedication, professionalism, and a strong sense of responsibility.

Nefeli started working at Netdata as an intern (university mandatory class) and she became an integral part of our Marketing team from the very beginning. She has managed to juggle her studies, work and various extracurricular activities flawlessly. She is very dedicated, a multitasker, and a great negotiator. She is managing very well working under pressure, ensuring smooth delivery of work projects as well as university projects. This is why she earned a formal role with us in Netdata's Marketing Department.

At Netdata, Nefeli is handling various projects but she is solely responsible for our social media accounts, she is managing our influencers and is the main point of contact for our events and sponsorships. She has demonstrated great professionalism and project management skills and she has also managed to negotiate prices and keep our spends as low as possible ensuring the best possible outcome.

Nefeli is a creative thinker, a strong collaborator, and someone who takes ownership of her work. Her professionalism, initiative, and ability to manage multiple projects simultaneously make her a valuable asset to any team.

In summary I strongly recommend Nefeli for any marketing or communications role and am confident that she will bring the same dedication, creativity, and professionalism to any organization she joins.

Sincerely,

Aliki Mitropoulou
Head of Marketing
Netdata Inc
